

THE OHIO ACADEMY OF NURSING HOMES, INC.

WHAT ACADEMY MEMBERS ARE SAYING:

"I feel that the Academy accurately represents the needs of long-term care business owners in Ohio, as well as my entrepreneurial spirit for my organization. The Academy excels in education, legislative involvement and communication. They communicate very well with their members, especially updating us in the long-term care profession concerning the regulatory cycle and reimbursement system. Because the Academy is a smaller association, they are less political and bureaucratic and can focus on specific issues. They are a more unified association where they can identify issues easier and are quick to action to resolve issues at a very efficient process."

- Jim Griffiths, Owner
JAG Healthcare

"The Ohio Academy of Nursing Homes provides our company and me as the administrator, with exceptional services and care year after year. Whether it is direct contact with a staff member on specific issues going on in my facility, educational seminars or the annual convention, the Academy always delivers. They always puts us in a position to be among the elite skilled nursing and rehabilitation facilities in the state. The award recognition program the Academy conveys brings a sense of pride that resonates through every employee and individual involved in our organization."

- Nicole McCaughey, Administrator
Adams County Manor and Morris Nursing Home

"I know the Academy focuses on long-term care public policy and advocacy, and we support that value as an associate member. The communication from the Academy staff is to-the-point and very direct. They are always accessible, courteous and take time at their trade show to acknowledge the exhibitors for their support —we appreciate that."

- Bob Stein, Director of Group Purchasing Services
CHAMPS Management Services

"The Academy provides a great deal of education to our administrators, DONs and staff that is affordable, yet contains relevant information. The Academy Weekly newsletter is packed with regulatory and legislative information that would take hours to compile if we did it ourselves."

- Kelly Mutchler, Administrator
Falling Water Healthcare Center

"Our organization recently became a member of the Academy, and they have already exceeded our expectations in providing resources, education and updates concerning changes in our industry. I have been especially impressed with the response time to our regulatory questions and the extra mile the OANH staff has gone to get our questions answered. It is critical to the success of the healthcare industry to keep abreast of the new changes and innovations; the Academy has proven to be that vehicle for our organization. The Academy Weekly is a great example of just one of the Academy's resources for education, networking, updates for regulatory issues, as well as, important links to valuable information."

- Sara Busacca, Administrator
Joint Township District Memorial Hospital, Transitional Care Unit

"The Ohio Academy of Nursing Homes provides immediate updates on the latest news. This includes many outside factors that have a great influence on how we go about our daily routines for our residents. In addition to informing us, the Academy represents us in a proactive manner within our profession. This representation enables us to provide high quality care."

- James Taylor, Administrator

"The Academy educational seminars hit the bull's eye with respect to our needs. The topics are very important and pertinent to what we are currently doing. We encourage all of our facilities to attend each seminar."

- Jim Wilson, Chief Operating Officer

"The Ohio Academy of Nursing Homes has been a great resource for me in many different ways. They continually keep me updated with all of the new regulations via email with the The Academy Weekly. They are a great source of networking by offering continuing educational seminars throughout the year, organizing the annual convention that covers a multitude of different topics, and connecting me to vendors striving to provide the best products for our residents. All of this ensures the highest quality of care we can provide!"
